The Point of this Notice?

This privacy notice will let you know how we look after your personal data when you visit our website and/or otherwise engage with Ultra, it also provides an explanation of your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

What Personal Data?

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

We are a manufacturer and supplier to trade and as a result rarely engage with personal information for end customers, our engagement is generally limited to occasional delivery engagement, to assist in identifying stockists of our products, to address general enquiries and also to address warranty related issues.

Ultra collects and processes personal data through visitors use of this website, and individuals wider engagement with us, including when you get in touch with us using a web form, sign up to receive a newsletter or when you contact us about our products (over the phone or in person) so we can provide services to you, and in performing those services.

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together as follows:

- Identity & Contact Data includes first name, last name, username or similar identifier, title, address, email address and phone numbers.
- Financial & Transaction Data includes bank account and payment card details, payment details to and from you.
- Marketing and Communications Data includes your preferences in receiving marketing from us, your communication preferences and use of this website.
- Technical Data includes internet protocol (IP) address, your login data, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform and other technology on the devices you use to access this website.
- We do not collect any sensitive or Special Category Personal Data about you.

How we use your personal data

We use personal data in the following circumstances:

- Where we need it to perform or support the performance of a contract to supply our products, entered into with you or one of our stockists.
- Where we need to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation, specifically relating to financial record keeping.
- We do not rely on consent as a legal basis for processing your personal data.

Marketing

Our communication about the delivery of services or warranty enquiry is separate to any marketing we might undertake.

You may receive marketing communications from us if you have specifically consented to receive it or requested information from us or purchased goods or services from us and, you have not opted out of receiving that marketing. As an individual, you can unsubscribe at any time from our use of your personal data for marketing and advertising communication by contacting us Mike.Duggleby@ultra-finishing.co.uk or by using the unsubscribe link which is in any e-mail marketing communication we provide.

Third-party marketing

We will get your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any third party for marketing purposes. We will ensure that any such request is entirely clear and easy to understand, providing you with control of your personal data use.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Disclosures of your personal data

We may share personal information with the following organisations

- Stockists where you ask us to pass on an enquiry, usually we will provide you their details, so you can make direct contact.
- Service providers acting as processors for us based in the UK who provide IT and system administration and business support services to us.
- Professional advisers acting as processors or joint controllers including lawyers, bankers, auditors and insurers based in the UK who provide consultancy, banking, legal, insurance and accounting services.
- HM Revenue & Customs, regulators and other authorities acting as processors or joint controllers based in the United Kingdom who require us by law to maintain and report information to them.
- Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer, or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

We will update this list from time to time.

International transfers

We do not transfer your personal data outside the European Economic Area (EEA).

Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

Data retention

How long will you use my personal data for?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data and the purposes for which we process your personal data.

By law we have to keep basic information about transactions with customers (including Some Contact and Identity & Financial and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being customers for tax purposes. Otherwise the Personal Information we gather is usually kept for 3 years or less, so we can manage queries you may have and for warranty related & record keeping reasons.

Your legal rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data. Please see below to find out more about these rights.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights, please contact us Mike.Duggleby@ultra-finishing.co.uk, 01422 417110, Hamnett House, Gibbett Street, Halifax, West Yorkshire, HX2 0AX.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month, for example if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you within a month of your complaint, keep you updated and respond in no more than two further months.

You have the right to:

Request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.

Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.

Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.

Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground as you feel it impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your rights and freedoms.

Request restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in the following scenarios: (a) if you want us to establish the data's accuracy; (b) where our use of the data is unlawful but you do not want us to erase it; (c) where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or (d) you have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

Request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

Withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.

Right to Complain

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We would, be happy to consider and assist you with any concern you may have so would be delighted if you might contact our data privacy manager in the first instance: mike.duggleby@ultra-finishing.co.uk – 01422 417000
